DEDICATION

JOHN DAVID McPEAKE

We, the Class of 1967 dedicate the BEACON to Mr. John D. McPeake.

During his short term at Fisher, Mr. McPeake, a dedicated instructor of Sociology and Psychology, has also demonstrated the qualities of a gentleman and a scholar. He has exhibited his insatiable intellectual and professional curiosity through his previous research in psychopharmacology, and is presently continuing this work in the field of hypnotic research.

As advisor to the SGA, Mr. McPeake has had the opportunity to work side by side with the students and has become an invaluable liaison between the students and the faculty.

In gratitude for his work at Fisher, we are proud to dedicate our yearbook to the man who, we feel, best symbolizes our times.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Your yearbook is a treasure-house of memories for you today and for all your future. For me, the yearbook is a concrete record of what has been done in the months that your class has been with us; your joys, your growth, and your accomplishments. Every picture and every word in it has significance for these are the "footprints in the sands of time" that show that you have passed this way and have gone on to a larger life. At Fisher Junior College we rejoice at your arrival here, and we rejoice too when we see, in this book, that your being here has added immeasurably to your capacity for work and for happiness. In this book you are always young, always hopeful, always eager. May this be so throughout your life.

True friendship is of royal lineage. It is of the same kith and breeding as loyalty and self-forgetting devotion and proceeds upon a higher principle even than they. For loyalty may be blind, and friendship must not be; devotion may sacrifice principles of right choice which friendship must guard with an excellent and watchful care . . . The object of love is to serve, not to win.

The Student Christian Movement of New England is the mother organization of our SCA. The club tries to enrich the lives of its members by "building new individuals and a new society according to the growing insight and faith of the cooperating Christian groups."

In pursuance of this aim, the members collected clothing, toys, and games for a Christmas box for the children at the Home for Little Wanderers and joined in the various holiday services. Money was raised to purchase a Bible which was presented to President Fisher to be used at convocations.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Newman Club is designed to bring together Catholic students who attend nonsectarian colleges. Throughout the year, various sales were held to raise money for charity baskets and the underprivileged, under the counsel of Father Arthur A. Brown, spiritual advisor, and Miss Carol DeAngelis, faculty advisor. Members of the Newman Club at Fisher represented the school at meetings with the Newman Apostolate. Numerous speakers have lectured on issues vital to the Catholic Church and its followers.

The members of the Talmidims work together to create a better understanding of Judaism and to further closer ties with other religious groups.

This year the members presented a Chanukah program and a cake sale. They also conducted a Hootenany and a Scholarship drive.

The members of Drama Club, directed by Mrs. Emily P. Bishop, are primarily concerned with furthering the interest of dramatics, experimenting with acting, and learning to appreciate plays and their writers. To them, a sincere interest in drama and a capacity for having fun is more important in their club's success than talent.

Among this year's projects were two plays presented to the student body and participation in the Parents' Night production.

COMMUTERS'

Representing 143 of our commuting students, the Commuters' Club experienced another very successful year, highlighted by the ski trip, which it sponsored to North Conway, New Hampshire. The Commuters' Club led off their season with a mixer featuring two talented bands. A raffle was held to benefit the Scholarship Fund. The May clambake added the perfect finish to an enjoyable year.

WUS, an international students' organization, aids colleges and universities around the world.

One of the most successful projects conducted by the Fisher Junior College club was the drive for books launched in the early fall. Several cartons of books were shipped to underdeveloped countries to be used as educational material.

Under the guidance of Miss Mary Tonougar, club advisor, lectures and social activities with guests from foreign countries have been enjoyed by the members throughout the year.

The Collegiate Council for the United Nations is a national organization which studies and supports the United Nations; for example, through a UNICEF drive in October. The members in their local organizations discuss the problems and issues confronting the United Nations and throughout the year have representatives of different countries as guest speakers.

Each year, members from the local chapters are selected to represent their schools each of which is assigned one of the U.N. countries for a Model General Assembly in New York City. This year Fisher's CCUN represented Cuba. Also, ten Fisher students worked as secretaries in the Model General Assembly Secretariat for the Harvard students who were this year's hosts. The Secretariat workers received a standing ovation from the 1300 students and faculty attending the Model General Assembly banquet.

The Girl's Glee Club, under the able direction of Mrs. Doris Solomon, displayed great promise at a convocation early last fall. They proved themselves when they sang two selections at the Christmas Program. They also sang "I Left My Heart in San Francisco" at the annual Parent's Night Variety Show and provided an entertaining night for all.

The members of SGA, under the guidance of Mr. John McPeake, are pledged to administer the powers granted them and to cooperate with the authorities of the college as well as the students.

It represents the interests of the student body in matters concerning their welfare, and it works to assist the observance of customs and traditions at Fisher.

This year, among other things, it sponsored a Christmas party and took up a collection for the children in Korea and the men in Vietnam. It also sponsored an interesting lecture series starting with "E.S.P." by Russ Burgess.
